Foreword

Back of every beautiful building is a blueprint — a picture of an architect's dream. To make the architect's dream a reality, workers and materials are required. So, in the building of the character of our social order, we must have architects, artisans, and materials — all of high quality. In this, our Ravelings for 1955, you will see our teachers as the architects; we students as the artisans; and our subjects, clubs, sports, and other activities as the materials. Together as teachers and students we use the materials indicated in the blue print to do our share in moulding the local, national, and international character of our civilization.

Architects

Those who have executive and administrative positions in our schools might well be called "Architects of the Future." We have our Trustee and Advisory Board to establish policies and appropriate funds for the operation of our schools. The County Superintendent and Principal put the policies into effect. The School Clerk must handle many of the details of day to day operation.

Class History

In September, 1951, thirty-eight confused freshmen found their way to high school. The class had two parties under the sponsorship of Miss Bowen and Mr. Dilling. The class elected as their officers the following people: Todd Hathaway, president; Bill Leonhard, vice-president; Edythe Meyer, secretary; Sue Leonhardt, treasurer, and Phyllis Burkhardt reporter.

A year later thirty-nine ambitious sophomores entered Chester. During the year we enjoyed two class parties with Mrs. Lytle and Mr. Scribner as sponsors. The class chose as their officers the following students: Noel Yordy, president; Darrel Grafis, vice-president; Catherine Gemmer, secretary; Todd Hathaway, treasurer, and Maurice Frieden reporter.

In 1953 thirty-two juniors entered school looking forward to a full year of numerous activities. Among these activities were our skating party, receiving our class rings, selling concessions at ballgames and the fish fry which proved to be a big success. In the spring the class worked together to put on our class play, "Meet Corliss Archer." The class elected as their officers: Charles Zinsmeister, president; Jack Slaughter, vice-president; Norma Coning, secretary; Maurice Frieden, treasurer; and Sue Leonhardt, reporter. Our sponsors for that year were Mrs. Amass and Mr. Mertz.

At last in September of 1954, thirty faithful seniors trudged, tired but ready, to start an interesting year to end their high school career as the class of 1955. Being determined, new records were set. We produced as a great success, "The Adorable Imp," which was properly dressed by the stage curtains, a third of which was our share towards a gift for the school. Our officers were: Gary Jackson, president; Charles Zinsmeister, vice-president; Anita Bollinger, secretary; Phyllis Burkhardt, treasurer; and Sue Leonhardt, reporter. The Ravelinas was started under the direction of two worthy advisors, Mrs. Amass and Mr. Smith. The main money making projects of the year were magazine sales and the fish fry. Baccalaureate, commencement and the long-awaited trip ended an eventful year.

Basketball 1954-55

The 1954-55 Panther basketball season ended with three wins and seventeen losses. The graduation of eight lettermen in '54 accounts partially for the inexperience of this year's club which seemed to be the main problem.

Win or lose our trainer, "Doc" Walters, was always at our side to offer encouragement.

The student managers not only packed suits and carried them around but they had them laid out and ready to put on when the players got there.

Track 1955

Coach Dr.
Mark Swinger

The track team of 1954 was County Champions and Runner-up in the Manchester Relays. The Baker, Brown, Houser team will be keenly felt in trying to duplicate last year's success. However, some of the boys who got so much experience last year will help to bolster the squad and make it a better than average team of the men of the county.

"Seventeen Is Awfully Young"

There is always something happening at the Eliots. Perhaps it is because of the monkeyshines of Albert and his friend Thaddeus. More than likely, though, it's because of the Eliot sisters, Jan and Nicki. Jan, the tigress, is the beautiful but spoiled seventeen year-old daughter; and Nicki, the mouse, is sixteen and shy, definitely not in the race, as far as looks are concerned. In fact Nicki's never been popular. She has always danced with the most handsome boys in school, she's waltzed with the football heroes, she's had dates with all the boys — in her dreams. But it has never been a reality.

All her life she has dreamed of going to beautiful places and having gobs of fun. All of this has just been in a make believe world — until her fairy god-mother arrives. She is Nicki's old friend and teacher, Miss Tilby, who has an amazing gift for cataloging people and putting them exactly where they belong. Miss Tilby, who has watched Nicki since that first day in school, takes Nicki in hand, gives her several very important lessons — including a couple on "spunk" — and it's a very transformed Nicki that emerges . . . much to the chagrin of sister Jan who's always done all she can to stay ahead of Nicki. Nicki really creates a disturbance when she emerges into the new Nicki. Maybe her "mousy" ideas get her places after all.

Junior Fish Fry

The Juniors had a very successful fish fry this year. They had the famous Akron Jonah Club to fry their fish. New records were set in total sales and net profit.

Class Will

We, the class of Nineteen Hundred Fifty-Five, do hereby declare ourselves to be of sound mind, in spite of all actions to the contrary; and being of the opinion that it would be detrimental to deprive posterity of the fruits of our superior wisdom and experience, declare this to be our last will and testament, and to be honored as such.

We offer to the faculty our most sincere apologies for the illegal acts, if any, committed by us. We also extend our deepest sympathy to Mr. Smith, whom we feel will miss us very much.

To the students of the school we leave our ability to get along as a group, our scholastic ability, and our resolutions to get our lesson.

We hereby declare that all our lawful debts be paid, including all our doctor bills for treatment of mental and physical ills caused by the examinations we have taken and that all our funeral expenses be discharged.

I, Bob Barker, will my ability to pack basketball suits to that up-and-coming student manager, Leland Beery.

I, Anita Bollinger, being of absent mind and sound body will to Miss Bowen part of my absent-mindedness in case she ever decides to be a college professor.

I, Rose Ann Bucher, will my ability as co-editor of the Chester Chatter to any person with good eyesight who can count the pages as fast as they come out of the ditto machine, also, my ability to get along with teachers to my younger sister, Linda.

I, Phyllis Burkhart, will my seat in the study hall to anyone who can regulate the heat and my locker to any junior who gets there first.

I, John Clark, will my ability to stay awake in the study hall to Clarence Betten; and my A's in citizenship to whoever needs them.

I, Norma Coning, will my ability to have an appendicitis operation on Thursday and come home on Saturday, to anyone who might need it.

I, Keith Cook, will my seat on Sport Metzger's bus to Carolyn Metzger.

I, Barbara Elkins, will my ability to keep quiet in Miss Bowen's classes to Pat Leckrone and my ability to argue to Mr. Tyler.

I, Maurice Frieden, would will my intelligence to anyone who needed it but I can't, because I need it all myself.

I, Catherine Gemmer, will my height to Joan Landis and my ability to get A's in deportment to anyone who

I, Darrel Graffis, will my ability to enjoy Mr. [unclear] classes to Carolyn Metzger, my stripped overalls to Jim Shanahan, my hustle to Gene Heeter, and Ol' Nelliebelle to [unclear] one who will keep her under sixty.

I, Todd Hathaway, will my ability to behave and hold my temper to my brother, Jack (I think he is going to need it.)

I, Gary Jackson, will my memory to Mr. Rowe so he will be able to find his keys.

I, Leo Judy, will my ability to get A's in citizenship to Danny Hammond and my 'Chevy' to anybody who can keep gasoline in it.

I, Shirley Krichbaum, will my seat in the study hall to anyone who can keep it on the floor and my ability to do short-hand to any junior who decides to take it.

I, Bill Leonhard, will my ability to get along with Miss Bowen to Miriam Swinger.

I, Sue Leonhardt, will my position as Editor-in-chief of the Chester Chatter to anyone who can put up with "Bessie," the ditto machine.

I, Marilyn Metzger, will my seat in the back of the study hall to anyone who thinks he can behave.

I, Edythe Meyer, will my seat on Johnny Marburger's bus to anyone who can keep Tom Schumaker company.

I, James Meyer, will my toothish grin to anyone who is toothless and my seat in the study hall to anyone who can get along with Pat Leckrone.

I, Charles Miller, will my seat in the study hall to anyone who can enjoy the Indiana scenery that can be seen from it.

I, Ted Morford, will my seat on the bus to Robin Miller. I'm sure he will like it.

I, Jim Myers, will my ability to get along with Mr. Dilling to Doc Hammond, I also will my ability to sleep in history class to Clem Mitchell.

I, Helen Penrod, will some of my long hair to Gerold Faudree, and my position in band to anyone who might get a "hang" out of it.

I, Ann Reber, will my ability to go steady with the same boy for three years of high school to Ann Keattober.

I, Lucy Robinson, will my short stature to Mrs. Van Camp and Mr. Rowe.

I, Phyllis Rupley, will the extra money I have to Chester High School to build escalators to replace the stairs.

I, Jack Sleighter, will my ability to keep out of arguments to David Reber.

I, Noel Yordy, will to Mrs. Van Camp the height she loaned me in the eighth grade (I wasn't able to use it.) Furthermore I will my stripped overalls to Dewayne Beery.

I, Charles Zinsmeister, will my ability to get A's in citizenship and stay out of trouble to Gene Michel.

Class of 1955

Here it is, 1970. The dream of the Class of 1955 is coming true. The new all modern school for Chester Township is now completed.

Let's follow Mr. Smith over to look over the new building. Even though he has retired he still has a keen interest in the activities in Chester Township.

Mr. Smith stops to talk with Noel Yordy, the foreman of the construction crew. While he was talking, Cook, the head janitor, stopped to tell Noel that they couldn't get any pressure in the boilers. Mr. Smith decided to go upstairs so he could see the new art room on the way. He was tearing her hair out over the new art room on the way. He was tearing her hair out over the new art room on the way.

As he walked down the hall he stopped to look at the picture of the Class of 1955. He remembered his favorite television program last evening. The quartet of Maurice and Morford. The picture of the Class of 1955.

Mr. Smith During the ex in a locker door and had to go to the Helen Penrod, for a bandaid. While he was sitting e talking over old times, Anita Bollinger, head of the fish department came in to see if Helen could look at the Baker children (children of the former Ann Reber) to see if they really had the measles.

Mr. Smith walked into the office and began talking to the head bookkeeper Darrel called to his attention. There was on the bulletin board Charles Zim nculture agent, had filed charges against

Leo Judy for planting too much corn on his 300 acre farm. The case was to be tried in Wabash County court by prosecuting attorney, Rose Ann Bucher. Mr. Smith stood there thinking about the case when Jim Myers, head mechanic of the school bus fleet ran into the office to tell Principal, Jack Sleighter, that Phyllis Rupley, driving a truck for Faurot's Grocery store, had just his Charles Miller's new school bus.

Mr. Smith invited Mr. Smith to have lunch in the school cafeteria. Head cook, Marilyn Metzger, rushed past Mr. Smith to tell John Clark, fruit and vegetable truck driver, that they needed more lettuce.
